How the Western Undergraduate Exchange Works

The Western Undergraduate Exchange is a “decentralized” program. Therefore, the student applies to the institution of choice (listed in this brochure), indicating that Western Undergraduate Exchange status is desired, and the institution responds directly to the student. The applicant obtains application materials from, and submits the application for admission to, the institution he or she desires to attend. The institution may admit or deny admission to any applicant. The student must indicate on the application for admission that he or she seeks admission as a Western Undergraduate Exchange student. (Do not apply as an out-of-state student and expect to receive the Western Undergraduate Exchange tuition rate after you are admitted. You must apply for the Western Undergraduate Exchange rate at the time of application.)

When admitted as a Western Undergraduate Exchange student, the student will pay 150 percent of the institution’s regular resident tuition (i.e., 50 percent more than resident tuition), plus any fees that all students are required to pay.

The full charge (tuition plus fees) applicable in any specific program can be determined from the website of the institution or from the admissions office. A student may continue to enjoy Western Undergraduate Exchange tuition status as long as he or she is enrolled in the program to which admitted and meets any other criteria for continued participation set by the institution. Change to another program (in the same or a different institution) may be made at the reduced Western Undergraduate Exchange level only if the new program is also open to Western Undergraduate Exchange students and the change is approved by the institution. A few institutions have extended the Western Undergraduate Exchange tuition privilege to eligible students already enrolled. However, this is not a requirement of the program.

Each state determines which institutions and programs it will make available to students in the Western Undergraduate Exchange. ONLY THOSE STATES AND INSTITUTIONS THAT APPEAR IN THIS BROCHURE WILL RECEIVE ARIZONA RESIDENTS AS WESTERN UNDERGRADUATES EXCHANGE STUDENTS. Eligibility for admission and for Western Undergraduate Exchange tuition is determined by each participating institution. If admitted as a Western Undergraduate Exchange student, the student may not petition for in-state residency status.

INFORMATION AND APPLICATIONS MUST BE OBTAINED DIRECTLY FROM THE INSTITUTION(S) OF CHOICE.

What is the Western Undergraduate Exchange?

The Western Undergraduate Exchange is a student exchange program coordinated by the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) and administered for Arizona by the Arizona Board of Regents. Through the Western Undergraduate Exchange, Arizona residents may enroll in certain programs at the two-year and four-year public colleges listed in this brochure. Western Undergraduate Exchange tuition is 150 percent of the host institution's regular resident tuition. In all cases, Western Undergraduate Exchange tuition is considerably less than non-resident tuition.

Which States Participate?

Arizona residents may attend certain programs in the following states, if they meet eligibility requirements.

Alaska	Idaho	Oregon
California	Montana	South Dakota
Colorado	Nevada	Utah
N. Mariana Islands	New Mexico	Washington
Hawaii	North Dakota	Wyoming

Programs Available

Many undergraduate fields are available to Western Undergraduate Exchange students at the participating colleges and universities. Some institutions have opened their entire curriculum on a space-available or first-come, first-serve basis; others offer only designated programs. ONLY THE COLLEGES LISTED IN THIS BROCHURE ACCEPT ARIZONA RESIDENTS THROUGH THE WESTERN UNDERGRADUATE EXCHANGE.

Western Undergraduate Exchange Information

To learn of the wide range of programs available, consult the WICHE Western Undergraduate Exchange website at: <http://wue.wiche.edu>
