

Sit at any untaken desk but note that students sitting in the back may be moved forward to empty seats before the test starts

Get out a writing implement, a blank sheet of lined paper and Fill-in-the-Blank Notes 1 and 2

Remove everything else from your desk

When done turn pages over in a pile on your desk and think happy Friday thoughts until we finish

Welcome to Biology

Friday

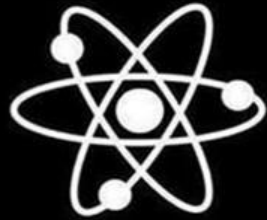

9/24/21

Phones away and things out of ears please -
Masks covering face holes
Thank you!!

Daily Agenda

1. Practice Mini-Test

Atoms consist of 99.99999999%
empty space.

That means:
the computer you're looking at,
the chair you're sitting on,
and you, yourself

are mostly NOT THERE.

How awesome is that?!

Thank GOODNESS
It's Friday...

MommaGiggles/Facebook

I've had enough of this WEEK!!

For Tests

- You need Fill-in-the-Blank Notes
 - ◊ On normal tests we will use scantrons for the multiple choice section
- You need a single sheet of blank, lined paper
 - This is for the fill-in-the-blank and short answer sections
- Information on how to format your page is shown on the righthand board
- Tests are numbered
 - Include your test number with ID info on page in upper right hand corner